

Abu Dhabi awards $24.5m power, water deals

Thursday, 17 June 2010

UK firm Mott MacDonald has been awarded power and water contracts worth AED90m ($24.5m) by Abu Dhabi Distribution Company (ADDC).

The deals will cover consultancy work for power in both the Central and Western regions and for water in the Eastern region, according to a company statement released on Thursday.

The projects in the Eastern region are among some of Abu Dhabi's largest infrastructure projects like, Masdar, the Abu Dhabi airport expansion and Capital District, the new administrative centre.

Specifically, Mott MacDonald will conduct studies, preliminary and detailed design, tender preparation and evaluation, as well as construction supervision and commissioning, the statement said.
